Notes

The purpose of this declaration is to provide that the reliefs of the Interest Article of Ireland's Double Taxation Agreements can be granted automatically without recourse to the Revenue Commissioners.

1. Conditions for Self-Certification to apply

This form should be completed if:

1. Absent the self-certification, the payment would be subject to withholding under section 246(2) TCA 1997 and the person to whom the payment is being made is not entitled to an exemption from withholding tax under any of the provisions of section 246(3) TCA 1997.
2. The person to whom the interest is paid is the beneficial owner of the interest.
3. The person to whom the interest is paid is not resident in Ireland and the interest is not being paid in connection with a trade or business which is being carried on in Ireland through a branch or agency.
4. The person to whom the interest is paid is treated as a person (that is to say opaque rather than transparent)
 - a. for Irish tax purposes and for the purposes of tax imposed by the treaty partner, or
 - b. under the DTA.
5. Under the relevant DTA, that person is treated as a resident only of the treaty partner.
6. The DTA rate provided for under the Interest Article of the DTA that will apply on payments of interest to residents of the treaty partner is lower than 20%.
7. The payee is entitled to relief under the DTA in respect of the interest payment, such that any tax withheld would be fully, or partially, refundable.

2. Relevant Territory

A "relevant territory" for the purposes of section 246 TCA 1997 is defined as:

- a country (other than Ireland) which is a member of the European Union,
- a country with which Ireland has a Double Taxation Agreement, or
- a country with which Ireland has entered into a Double Taxation Agreement which has not yet been ratified.

3. Double Taxation Treaties

For up-to-date information on the countries with which Ireland has a Double Taxation Agreement please refer to the Revenue website at: <https://www.revenue.ie/en/tax-professionals/tax-agreements/index.aspx>

4. Interest Article

The interest Article of Ireland's Double Taxation Agreements is used to determine if tax payable in Ireland can be relieved in respect of interest payments being made.

For example, the Interest Article [Article 12] of the Double Taxation Agreement between Ireland and Sweden provides as follows:

- "1. Interest arising in a Contracting State and paid to a resident of the other Contracting State shall be taxable only in that other State if such resident is the beneficial owner of the interest."

Accordingly, in the case of interest payments being made to a person beneficially entitled to the interest payment who is resident in Sweden, no tax is to be charged or deducted on the interest payment in Ireland. As such the interest can be paid gross [i.e. without the deduction of withholding tax as required under section 246(2) TCA 1997] to the payee.

While the Interest Article [Article 11] of the Double Taxation Agreement between Ireland and Belgium provides as follows:

- “1. Interest arising in a Contracting State and paid to a resident of the other Contracting State may be taxed in that other State.
2. Such interest may also be taxed in the Contracting State in which it arises, and according to the law of that State. However, the tax so charged shall not exceed 15 per cent of the amount of the interest.”

Accordingly, in the case of interest payments being made to a person beneficially entitled to the interest payment who is resident in Belgium, the interest is charged to Irish tax at the reduced rate of 15%. As such, the interest payment can be made to the payee subject to a withholding tax at the rate of 15 percent [rather than withholding tax at the rate of 20% as required under the provisions of section 246(2) TCA 1997].

5. Person making the interest payment

In advance of making the interest payment either without the deduction of withholding tax or at a reduced rate of withholding tax the person making the interest payment should refer to Tax and Duty Manual 08-03-06 <https://www.revenue.ie/en/tax-professionals/tdm/income-tax-capital-gains-tax-corporation-tax/part-08/08-03-06.pdf> to ensure that all the conditions pertaining to the interest payment have been satisfied.

6. Residents of the United States of America

Revenue acknowledge that residents of the United States of America may encounter difficulties having the Form 08-03-06 Interest Payments certified by the US tax authorities therefore Revenue will consider a certificate of residence for United States tax purposes (Form 6166) acceptable in lieu of having the Form 08-03-06 Interest Payments certified by the US tax authorities.

The Form 6166 and fully completed uncertified Form 08-03-06 Interest Payments should be given to the person making the interest payments.

A Form 6166 is available from The Department Of The Treasury, Internal Revenue Service, Philadelphia, PA 19255, USA.

Please go to www.irs.gov to apply for Form 6166.
